

WICKED

IN CINEMAS
NOVEMBER 22

visit GREENWITCH
time after time

GREENWITCH

MAP TRAIL OF THE GREENWITCH TAKEOVER

This takeover is for a limited time only. Whilst all signs have been lovingly installed, we cannot be held responsible for any signs that get damaged or stolen.

ROYAL BOROUGH OF

GREENWITCH

GREENWITCH
Multi-Directional Sign
(opposite Buffalo Grill)

GREENWITCH
Roundel & Market
Entrance Sign
(entrance to Turnpin Lane)

GREENWITCH
Multi-Directional Sign
Road Signs

GREENWITCH
Directional Sign
(by The Mitre pub)

GREENWITCH
PICTUREHOUSE

THE GREEN CAFÉ
WICKED Windows

GREENWITCH
HIGH ROAD
Road Signs

GREENWITCH
Multi-Directional
Sign
(outside Greenwich Station)

GREENWITCH
FOOT TUNNEL
Official name change Plaque

GREENWITCH TOURIST INFORMATION CENTRE

GREENWITCH
Market Entrance Sign

GREENWITCH
Market Roof
Installation

GREENWITCH
Market Entrance Sign

GREENWITCH
Directional Stand
(corner of Nelson Road and King William Walk)

KING WILLIAM WALK
Road signs and Banner Flags

GREENWITCH
Directional Stand
(outside Greenwich
Park, St. Mary's Gate entrance)

Attention all Ozians! London's iconic Royal Borough of Greenwich has had a WICKED makeover, changing its name to GREENWITCH in celebration of the cinematic spectacular flying into cinemas on November 22.

Fans and visitors can embark on a spell-binding trail to find a series of newly unveiled GreenWitch signs.

Spotting the first sign outside Greenwich Station, up through GreenWitch High Road and past the perfectly named The Green Café. Look out for the magical roof installation at GreenWitch Market and be sure to visit the GreenWitch plaque at the GreenWitch Foot Tunnel.

